Corporate Analysis

How Investors, Banks and Private Equity Professionals Read Companies

21 September 2026, 09.00–13.00 CET
Kyiv Aviation Institute

*"Numbers never tell the whole story—
but they always tell part of it."*

Session is in English, via Zoom and free / Link for registration: <https://forms.gle/VHseTsTsgLfKTW4XA>

Why attend?

Every investment, financing or acquisition decision starts with understanding the business behind the numbers.

This highly practical workshop explores how professional investors, banks, private equity firms and corporate finance advisers analyse companies, assess performance and identify the factors that really drive a business.

The objective is simple: to learn how to look at a company through an investor's eyes.

Who should attend?

- Entrepreneurs and business owners
- Executives and senior managers
- Investors and finance professionals
- Bankers and consultants
- MBA students and young professionals
- Anyone interested in how companies are analysed / valued

What will you learn?

Participants will learn how to

- analyse a company quickly and systematically;
- identify the key drivers of its business and financial performance;
- read financial statements from an investor's perspective;
- distinguish between what matters and what merely appears in the numbers;
- recognise strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and warning signals; and
- turn financial information into meaningful business conclusions.

Workshop Format

A live, highly interactive online workshop combining practical examples, real-world observations, mini case studies and discussion. A dedicated moderator will facilitate the interaction throughout the session, bringing participants' questions and perspectives into the discussion and ensuring an active exchange rather than a one-way presentation.

No accounting lecture. No financial-modeling marathon. The focus is on developing the analytical mindset of a professional investor.
